HAG was invested in and founded by a diverse group of professionals who have come together in this unique time to lever the quickly burgeoning potential of artificial intelligence and machine learning to the health care services market.

HAG has developed certain intellectual property around its proprietary method for selecting and evaluating patient data, and through this data optimization method, seeks to improve net margins for United States-based health care providers and facilities. The intellectual property, known as the MedMatrix, is powered by artificial intelligence to extract and refine patient data quickly and automatically. The range of anticipated users for the MedMatrix includes U.S. health care providers, U.S. health insurance companies, government agencies, employers and health systems. The MedMatrix is intended to optimize revenue for providers and improve patient experience simultaneously. HAG has achieved commercialization of the MedMatrix platform as a result of having entered into revenue generating software user licensing agreements with a limited number of clinics. The licensing agreements provide for licensing fees payable to HAG in connection with use of the MedMatrix platform and provide for a combination of monthly user fees as well as a certain percentage of any increase in revenues during the term of the MedMatrix license. As part of the initial licensing agreements, HAG has offered early users discounted rates during the initial phase (between six months and one year), after which the preciously noted user fees apply. The existing agreements have a

HAG has recently achieved limited revenue through client adoption of MedMatrix and is actively pursuing funding to expand its sales and marketing plan. The interest is calculated on a daily basis and aggregated monthly, not in advance, both before and after any default, demand, or judgment. The interest accrues without compounding until the termination date of the loan. HAG shall pay the loan on demand. During the year ended February 29, 2024, the Company had advanced $1,023,650 (US$1,389,094) to HAG and recorded accrued interest receivable of $20,245.
